Center for innovative medical continuing education and training

The Demo-OP Aachen is a modern facility for medical training and continuing education, practical surgical training, and interdisciplinary workshops. As part of the CT<sup>2</sup> Center for Teaching and Training at RWTH Aachen University Hospital, clinical expertise, innovative technology and well-designed teaching concepts are combined in one central location.

The goal is to impart medical knowledge in a practical, realistic and sustainable manner. In this professional environment physicians, surgical teams, scientists, and industry representatives can learn, train, and collaborate under realistic conditions.
